REPORT TO THE SHAREHOLDERS

Sales for the year ended November 30, 1978 were $22,924,000 as compared to $19,434,000 for the prior year. The net earnings before income tax and extraordinary items increased to $2,154,000 from $1,311,000 in the prior year. Working capital as at November 30, 1978 was $2,674,000 as compared to $718,000 as at November 30, 1977.

We look forward to continuing this performance trend into the future with specific emphasis being placed on continuing the program of re-building the working capital position.

The Board of Directors wish to thank the employees of the Company for their services and efforts during the recent period. It is through their combined efforts that the operations of the Company are in a profitable position.

TOOLS DIVISION

The market for plastic molds continues to be favourable. Order input and shipments of finished molds are continuing at a high level.

Also evidenced is a trend toward larger size molds. This will be favourable for ITL in that the expertise of your Company is in this large size mold.

WHEATLEY DIVISION

As a result of the down sizing of the automobile, the die set industry remains active.

The introduction of the hydraulic press line has been very successful.

Within the next few years, this product line will provide revenue equal to the die set business.

REFLEX DIVISION

The Reflex Division has been the division which has shown the greatest improvement during the year. The operating management in the division has been changed. A greater emphasis has been placed in the automotive market.

Major new automotive programs have been added to the operation during the past six months and major additional programs have been received for the future.

ITL INDUSTRIES, INC.

The Newark operation improved substantially during the year.

Major new customers have more than doubled the sales of prescriptionware vials.

A snap cap product line has been added to complement safety closures.

A glass prescriptionware product line has been added to complement the plastic line, thereby providing ITL with a complete prescriptionware product line.

In the road marker segment of the business, a delineator product line has been added to complement the road markers to complete the product line.

OVERVIEW OF OPERATIONS

Your Company is entering a period of substantial growth.

This will result in a continuity of the improved financial performance of the operation.

On behalf of the Board of Directors

NOTES TO CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS I.T.L. INDUSTRIES LIMITED AND SUBSIDIARIES

November 30, 1978

STATEMENT OF ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Principles of Consolidation: The consolidated financial statements include the accounts of the company and its wholly-owned subsidiaries, I.T.L. Industries, Inc. and Wheatley Manufacturing Limited and its subsidiaries. Intercompany transactions and the year-end account balances have been eliminated on consolidation.

Receivables: Receivables are shown net of allowance for doubtful accounts.

Inventories: Inventories, other than tooling jobs-in-process, are stated at the lower of cost and net realizable value. Cost is determined principally at standard which approximates first-in, first-out cost.

Tooling jobs-in-process are stated at the lower of accumulated contract costs and proportional contract net realizable values.

Fixed Assets: Fixed assets are carried at cost. Depreciation and amortization, which are based on management's estimate of the useful life of the assets, are calculated on a straight-line basis. Profits and losses on the sale of fixed assets are charged to operations unless of an extraordinary nature.

Intangibles: Excess of cost of investment in subsidiaries over book value of net assets acquired is recorded as an intangible asset. It has not been amortized as management believes it has a continuing value. However, any goodwill relating to acquisitions after March 31, 1974 will be amortized in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles.

Deferred financing and other similar costs are amortized over the period of the obligation in proportion to the amount of debt outstanding. Patents are amortized over the life of the respective patent.

Deferred Income Taxes: Deferred income taxes are included in the statements for differences between the income and expenses reflected in the statements and the amounts included in the computation of income for tax purposes for the current year, provided that such difference will be included in the computation of income for tax purposes in future periods.

Deferred income taxes are set up at the tax rate of the year and are drawn down at the average rate of accumulation.

Translation of Foreign Currencies: Translation of accounts in foreign currencies has been made as follows:

- (a) Current assets and current liabilities at the rate of exchange at the balance-sheet date;
- (b) Other balance sheet accounts and depreciation expense at the rate of exchange prevailing at the time of acquisition;
- (c) All items, excluding depreciation, on the statement of earnings at the average rate of exchange for the year.

Revenue Recognition: Generally revenue is recognized in the accounts at the time the product is shipped and billed to the customer. With respect to contract tooling, revenue is recognized when the original contract is complete and the amount billed to the customer.

NOTE 11 - LEGAL MATTERS

- (a) A subsidiary is defendent, together with four co-defendants, in an action where the plaintiff alleges damages of $1,345,000 resulting from the premature cracking of a die supplied by the subsidiary. Management denies all liability under the claim, submitting that the die was completely tested and accepted by the plaintiff's agent, and that the damage to the die was caused after acceptance. Legal counsel is unable to express an opinion on the outcome of the matter but contends that it is a very remote possibility for the subsidiary to sustain liability from the claim because:
 - (1) the company does have several valid defenses:
 - (2) the company has a counterclaim for unpaid repair services of $65,000;
 - (3) there may be partial or total insurance coverage;
 - (4) there are other co-defendants to the action.
- (b) The U.S. Customs Service has demanded $175,000, principally in penalties against a subsidiary, its customer and its custom broker, for an alleged violation of the U.S. customs laws. Legal counsel has submitted a petition on behalf of the subsidiary company but is unable to advise on the outcome of this matter. Legal counsel suggests that the liability, if any, to the parties in the transaction will be substantially less than the proposed penalty.
- (c) Subsidiary companies have brought the following actions which are in the pretrial stage:
 - (1) against former employees, alleging breach of contract of employment and fiduciary duty. The company is attempting to recover loss of profit and general damages;
 - (2) against a United States manufacturer for patent infringement.
